

Mashed Buddha

Four Keys to Zen

Free Online EP

Style: drum n bass n keyboards/electronica/downtempo

Sounds Like: Fila Brazillia, Orbital, Roni Size, Propellerheads

This new 4 track EP, 'Four Keys to Zen', portrays a new direction for Mashed Buddha, who's sublime, orchestrated grooves have thus far lacked one thing: Improvisation. John Corda, the sole musician responsible for Mashed Buddha, performs professionally as a keyboard player in soul/funk/latin bands. Whereas debut album "Subdue Your Mind" was an experiment in electronica composition, 'Four Keys to Zen' and upcoming full length album "Zen Conspiracy" are a collection of layered funk, drum n bass and downtempo grooves that allow for jamming keyboard solos.

"Mashed Buddha continues on the 'Four Keys To Zen' EP reinventing electronica by adding a variety of musical elements and humor. One can only hope he continues!"

-Mark Kirby (Associate Writer)

This EP released under

Creative Commons License

Tracks:

- 1) Mystery Dropper - Organic drum n bass combined with sick keyboard chops.
- 2) Hype - featuring the voice of legendary guru of all things enlightening and bender of spoons Uri Geller waxing hypnotic over a chill yet driving groove.
- 3) Spikes - from Mashed Buddha's debut effort "Subdue Your Mind," this is a descending drum n bass pattern that evolves and replicates. Spiky, like crazy Aunt Mable's cookout punch.
- 4) Temptation - Damn funky catchy clav electronica.

